

Name: Falah Khalil Al-Ani

Email: alani99@hotmail.com

Phone: +968-9-2323694

Fax: +968-2-4413307

Falah K. Al-Ani, BVM&S, PhD, Professor of Veterinary Medicine, graduated from the College of Veterinary Medicine, Baghdad University, Iraq, in 1973, and then received PhD degree in Pathology, Kansas State University, USA, in 1984. After earning the PhD degree I joined the College of Veterinary Medicine, Baghdad University, where I progressed through the ranks to full professor. From 1994 to 2001, I worked as a professor at Jordan University of Science and Technology. From September 2003 to April 2004 I awarded a Fulbright Scholarship at Kansas State University, USA. Presently, I have a contract with the Dewan Court Affair, Sultanate of Oman to publish two encyclopedias on Omani horses and camels with seven volumes each.

Publications related to Camelid (Last ten years)

1. Al-Ani, F.K. & Roberson, J. (2005). Fungal infection of camelids. Desertification Combat. Food. Safety. 70-84.
2. Al-Ani, F. K., El-Qaderi S., Hailat N. Razzaq R. Al-Darraj A. (2004). Human and animal brucellosis in Jordan. Rev. Sci. Tech. Off. Int. Epiz. 23: 831-840.
3. Al-Ani F. K. (2004). Camel Management and Diseases (English Version), Dar Ammar Book Publisher, P.O. Box 921691 Amman, Jordan.
4. Al-Ani F. K. (2003) Camel Encyclopedia. 2nd. Dar Ammar Book Publisher, P.O. Box 921691 Amman, Jordan.
5. Al-Rawashdeh O. F., Sharif, L. A., Al-Qudah, K. and Al-Ani F. K. (1999). Studies on Trypanosoma evansi infection in camels in Jordan. Revue. Elev. Med. Vet. Pays. Trop. 52: 233-237.