

Name: Michael van Straten

Email: chk1351@netvision.net.il
vstraten@agri.huji.ac.il

Phone: +972-52-2851351

Fax: +972-151-52-2851351

Private practitioner and consultant, camels. Field veterinarian and veterinarian in the Department of Herd Health, "Hachaklait", Mutual Society for Cattle Veterinary Services in Israel. Head of Research Unit, "Hachaklait". National consultant for lameness in cattle, "Hachaklait". Guest lecturer on the subject of Camel Medicine and Lameness in Cattle, Koret Veterinary School, Hebrew University, Jerusalem, Israel. Ph.D. student epidemiology and applied bio-statistics, Department of Epidemiology, Faculty of Medical Sciences, Ben Gurion University, Israel. DVM degree in 1984 from the University of Utrecht, The Netherlands.

Publications related to Camelid (Last ten years)

1. Yeruham I, van Straten M and Elad D. (2002). Entropion, corneal ulcer and corneal haemorrhages in a one-humped camel (Camelus dromedarius). J Vet Med B Infect Dis Vet Public Health. 2002 Oct;49(8):409-10.
2. Straten, M. van, Fridgut, O. and Even-Tov, B. (2001). Outbreak of contagious ecthyma in camels in Israel. Vet. Rec. Feb. 3; 148 (5): 150-151.
3. Straten, M. van (2000). Periparturient conditions affecting camels (Camelus dromedarius) in Israel and their treatments. Revue Élev. Méd. vét. Pays trop., 53 (2): 101-104.
4. Straten, M. van (1998). Hypocalcemia in two female camels (Camelus dromedarius): A case report. Journal of Camel Practice and Research, 5 (2): 287.