

Name: Omar, Abdulkadir Sheikh, Abdurahman

Email: omar_abdurahman@yahoo.com

Phone: +46 (0) 36 155899

Fax: +46 (0) 36 155005

Graduated from the faculty of veterinary medicine of the Somali National University in 1981. He has worked as a pathologist at the central veterinary laboratory in Mogadishu, Somalia over 10 years. During 1987/88 he worked as livestock research officer with NGO in Sablale district development programme. Dr. Abdurahman is a fellow of the Royal Veterinary College (FRCVS, Sweden), obtained MSc in 1985 and PhD in 1996 from the Swedish University of Agricultural Sciences. He then worked as an assistant course director on technical management of AI, udder health and milk hygiene (1999-2001). Between 2002 and 2005 he coordinated a project on udder health and milk quality among camels in the horn of Africa by the Swedish University, Uppsala, Sweden. Since 2005 Dr Abdurahman is a licensed veterinarian in Sweden and EU and currently working as a veterinary inspector at the Swedish Board of Agriculture, Department of animal health and welfare.

Publications related to Camelid (Last ten years)

1. Abdurahman, O A Sh (2006). Udder health and milk quality among camels in the Errer valley of eastern Ethiopia. Livestock Research for Rural Development. 18, number 8, Article #110. <http://www.cipav.org.co/lrrd/lrrd18/8/abdu18110.htm>
2. Abdurahman, O and M. Younan (2004) Udder health, In Farah and Fischer (eds): Milk and Meat from the camel, handbook on product and processing. Vdf Hochschulverlag AG an der ETH Zurich, Zurich/Singen. Page 73-76.
3. Dirie, M. F. and O. Abdurahman (2003). Observations on little known diseases of camels (Camelus dromedarius) in the Horn of Africa. Rev. Sci. Tech. Rev. 22 (3), 1043-1049
4. Abdurahman, O (2002). Improving udder health among camels in the horn of Africa. In: Proceedings of the 8th Kenya Camel Forum 2002, publ. by GTZ-KASIM Box 41607 Nairobi Kenya, 48-51